Small in Size. Great in Design.

Stays true to its name:
The new Meister fein Kleine Automatic by Junghans.

Like no other model by Junghans, the Meister fein combines classical design elements with a delicate design language. With the Meister fein Kleine Automatic, Junghans presents the watch classic of tomorrow in a smaller size now. All while keeping its great design.

With slender hands, elongated indices and the integration of the Junghans lettering at six o'clock, the line arrangement is wonderfully modern and emphasizes the distinctive geometry of the Meister fein Kleine Automatic. The spherical sapphire crystal and delicate watch case join together seamlessly – and, together with the slightly domed dial, lend the timepiece its gentle three-dimensionality.

Finesse in every detail

The Meister fein Kleine Automatic combines is straight-forward design with a multifaceted colour scheme.

The execution with a polished stainless-steel case, and hues of white and dark brown presents itself in a rather classical way. Suspenseful and expressive is the model with an anthracite-coloured dial and accents in pink. The third model with a polished PVD-coated sand-gold case fascinates with delicate lustre, combining exquisite shades of pink with purple.

The leather straps harmoniously pick up the respective colour of the double-line twelve o'clock index and Junghans lettering. With their slight curvature, they carry the geometrical design uncompromisingly forward. Combined with the ergonomically shaped case, the Meister fein Kleine Automatic ensures a high wearing comfort and nestles to the wrist. A display back allows for a glimpse into the decorated self-winding movement and makes one thing very clear: With a smaller diameter, the demands for quality and design of the new Meister fein Kleine Automatic remain as high as ever.
