Spherical. Fine. Designed.

Harmonious composition of fine details: Limited to just 100 pieces, the Meister fein Automatic Edition from Junghans.

Brand new on the market this year, the Meister fein Automatic from Junghans combines the classic elegance of the Meister range with exceptionally fine design. A special edition of only 100 pieces imparts a tactful exclusivity to the practicality of this new watch series: The Meister fein Automatic Edition.

Every minute detail is exemplified in the Edition model, from the intricacy of the lines to exacting standards, and in particular the very name bestowed upon it. This collector's item thus replicates the distinct line management of the Meister fein Automatic, at the same time raising the bar to a whole new level with its spherical geometry. The front and back are fitted with domed anti-reflective sapphire crystal. An 18-carat yellow gold flat case is fitted between both glasses, seamlessly consolidating the silhouette of the timepiece in a perfect discus form.

A true Meister in every detail

The matt silver-plated dial simulates the form of the case to precisely reflect the geometric style of the timepiece with its curvature, as well as the fine, diamond-effect hour markers and exquisite hands. The traditional Junghans logo adorns the dial just below the double lines marking the twelve o'clock position, further endorsing the affinity this watch bears with the company's history.

The elegance of the Meister fein Automatic Edition is also evident in the choice of strap, which wraps around the wrist in black alligator leather with a soft curve and completely free of seams. In combination with the domed crystal case back, this creates a particular pleasant wear comfort.

In addition to the external form of the Meister fein Automatic Edition emulating the innovative style, this watch also exhibits congruous components in its inner workings: Thanks to its special design, a spherical, two-arm rotor as viewed through the sapphire crystal case back allows a practically unobstructed view of the decorated self-winding movement. Additionally, a gilded plate featuring the Junghans star is provided as a cover for the rotor bearing. Developed and produced specially for the Edition model in Schramberg, the rotor underscores exclusivity of this collector's item – the spherical geometry of the Meister fein Automatic Edition represents a driving force in every detail.

The Meister fein Automatic Edition combines selected materials with an exquisite style. Its sophisticated elegance ensures that this special limited edition of just 100 pieces is immediately worthy of classic watch status.
